Elton John	The Thom Bell Sessions	UMC	Following a temporary hiatus in his partnership with longtime lyricist Bernie Taupin, Elton John turned to producer Thom Bell and the warm sounds of Philly soul for his next step. Bell was already a name producer for his work with some of the decade's biggest R&B acts such as the Spinners, the Stylistics and the Detroit Spinners and, while recorded in 1977, the fruits of their collaboration would not find an official release until 1979 by which time Elton's ever-restless muse had already moved on. They were not, however, destined to languish in obscurity and by the late 1990s copies of the original 12" of the sessions were changing hands for silly money among house heads. In 2003 Ashley Beedle's spirited remix of the lead track 'Are You Ready For Love' gave Elton a much-deserved Number 1 single. For Record Store Day 2016 they're once again available in all their full-length glory on this 2 track black vinyl release.

Frank Zappa	Joes Garage	UMC	The title track from an album described by Rolling Stone as "Frank Zappa's Apocalypse Now", 'Joe's Garage' was one of Zappa's most popular tracks on American FM Radio. 			the epic story of 'Joe', who forms a garage rock band and heads off on an epic journey into the music industry as the government criminalizes music. GERHARD HEINZ	SCHAMLOS	Music On Vinyl	Gerhard Heinz is an Austrian composer, lyricist and pianist, who composed many scores for B- and C-grade comedies and sleazy soft-core action thrillers since the early '60s. He was also highly-sought after for porn soundtracks. His music can be typified as infectious Soul Jazz with Mod, Funk and Disco flavors. Heinz composed over 130 scores for a wide variety of films, including the obscure Seventies soft porn flicks Schamlos, Geissel Des Fleisches and Lolita Am Scheideweg, of which a selection of its ridiculously cool music is included in this limited edition RSD 7". Groovy!

Glen Campbell	Wichita Lineman	UMC	Popularly referred to as “the first existential country song”, Stuart Maconie has called ‘Wichita Lineman’ “the greatest pop song ever composed”, its reputation further cemented by its inclusion in Rolling Stone magazine’s 500 Greatest Songs Of All Time. Written by Jimmy Webb and inspired by the image of a solitary lineman atop a telegraph pole observed while driving through rural Oklahoma during sunset, the Glen Campbell’s version, released in 1968, would go to number 3 in the US chart and enter the top ten in the UK. In celebration of Campbell’s 80th birthday in April 2016, we’re reissuing one his best-loved singles on red coloured 7” vinyl, using the original artwork from the ‘68 Spanish release.

Grace Jones	Private Life / She’s Lost Control	UMC	The trilogy of albums Grace Jones recorded for Island Records at Compass Point studios in Nassau, the Bahamas, in the early 1980s are rightly regarded as three of the decade’s most essential records. Mixing icy New Wave sensibilities, the poise and distance of high-fashion and the depth, groove and warmth of Dub Reggae, ‘Warm Leatherette’, ‘Nightclubbing’ and ‘Living My Life’ sound as freshly minted today as they did 35 years ago. Taken from the sessions for ‘Warm Leatherette’ ‘Private Life’ was a cover version of a Pretenders song from the band's debut album while the flipside saw an insane reinterpretation of one of Joy Division's darkest moments. Originally released in 1980 this double-header of extended versions sees a welcome return to vinyl for RSD 2016.

Guy Garvey	Unwind	Polydor	Elbow have regularly offered support for Record Store Day and this year it's the turn of frontman Guy Garvey. Having released his debut solo album 'Courting The Squall' to commercial and critical success in October 2015 - The Telegraph called it "urgent and exciting" and Line Of Best Fit declared it "the best album Garvey has worked on since The Seldom Seen Kid" - 'Unwind', the 2nd single from the album, was particularly singled out for praise with Drowned In Sound saying "he sounds at his most fragile... lyrically, it's some of his strongest work in years." For this year's Record Store Day, 'Unwind' is available as a limited edition 7".

Heaven 17	(We Don't Need This) Fascist Groove Thang	UMC	Promptly banned by the BBC upon release for referring to Ronald Regan, the then newly incumbent President of the United States, as a "fascist god in motion", Heaven 17's debut single was nevertheless one of the landmark singles of the early-1980s. A frenetic, juddering, jittering unearthly electro groove (thing) with its rousing chorus of "Brothers!

			Sisters!" the track was a major dance hit in alternative clubs on both sides of the Atlantic and sounds as fresh today as it did when it was first minted. Included here with b-side – B.E.F's The Decline Of The West and in its original sleeve, (We Don't Need This) Fascist Groove Thang is back in all its original floor-filling 12" glory.

HOOVERPHONI C	THE MAGNIFICENT TREE	Music On Vinyl	First pressing of 1000 numbered copies on transparent green & black mixed vinyl Belgium's Pop trio Hooverphonic has seemed to creatively move beyond their icy smooth seascape found on Blue Wonder Power Milk [MOVLP1394] and shift into a darkwave mood on their third full-length, The Magnificent Tree (2000). Hozier	Take Me To Church	Island	Undoubtedly one of the highlights of this year's RSD is Hozier's 2 times platinum (UK) selling 'Take me To Church EP' on limited edition 12" picture disc. 'Take Me To Church', the fourth single from Irishman Hozier's seminal eponymous album, is a powerful protest song rallying against the Catholic Church's attitudes towards homosexuality. It struck a chord globally selling more than 7 million copies, gaining a nomination for Best Song of the Year at the Grammys and contributing to Hozier's nomination for Best International Male artist at the BRIT Awards. This double sided limited edition 12" picture disk is not one to miss.

Ian Brown	Solarized	Fiction	Solarized was Ian Brown's fourth solo album which followed the critical and commercial success of "Music Of The Spheres". Lead hit single was "Keep What You Got", a collaboration with Oasis' Noel Gallagher, where two generations of Manchester indie legends came together on one classic track, with Gallagher memorably playing guitar on a street corner in the background of the video while Brown sings. The second single from the album was "Time Is My Everything" which followed a similar lyric fashion to his previous hit "F.E.A.R." THIS IS THE FIRST TIME THE ALBUM HAS BEEN AVAILABLE ON VINYL ANYWHERE IN THE WORLD - Limited edition single heavyweight vinyl with matt finish printed inner bag and download code!

Isley Brothers, The	This Old Heart Of Mine	UMC	While already considered one of THE seminal Detroit groups of the era, The Isley Brothers' 'This Old Heart Of Mine' was their fourth studio album and their first for the legendary Motown label. The majority was written and produced by the unstoppable Holland-Dozier-Holland team and the title track would go on to be the biggest hit of the Isleys' early period. It was followed by further hits with album cuts 'Take Some Time Out For Love' and 'I Guess I'll Always Love You' while to some soul heads, its versions of 'Nowhere to Run', 'Stop in the Name of Love', 'Baby Don't You Do It' and 'I Hear a Symphony' are at least comparable (if not preferable) to the originals. Reissued in its original form for RSD 2016 for the album's 50th anniversary.

James	Greenpeace Palace Concert	UMC	In the substantial roll call of James live shows, the Greenpeace Palace concert has achieved an almost mythical stature. The track 'Ring The Bells' was issued to the delight of fans on the 1994 'Alternative NRG' compilation on the Hollywood label and the live version of 'America' that was included as a B-side on their 'Sometimes' single (albeit slightly remixed) is also believed to have been taken from this performance although that has never been officially confirmed. Otherwise this powerful 12 track acoustic performance remains unreleased until now. The sleeve features a portrait of the band by Kevin Westenberg and (on the reverse) details from the requisite James tour booklet and a review of the gig from the 'James' fanzine, written by Christopher Zych and is released on a heavyweight transparent vinyl with download code.

James Bay	Chaos & The Calm	Virgin	With his debut album going straight in at Number 1, a corking appearance on the Pyramid Stage at Glastonbury last summer, three Grammy nominations and a Best British Male Solo Artist award at this year's Brits, you could say it's been quite a year for 25-year-old singer-songwriter James Bay. Rounding off, then, the spectacular and sustained activity for 'Chaos and the Calm' comes this exquisite picture disc vinyl version of the album for Record Store Day. The smart money's on this beauty becoming one of this year's very hottest cakes.

Jimmy Page	She Just Satisfies	UMC	Originally released in February 1965, 'She Just Satisfies' came towards the end of Page's prolific career as a session musician. He'd already picked up some co-writing credits with then-girlfriend Jacke DeShannon and owing in no small part to her encouragement Page cut this track. Barring the drums, Jimmy played all the instruments and for the first and only time also provided lead vocals, making 'She Just Satisfies' a fascinating artefact from one of the greatest guitarists and songwriters of all time. With originals regularly commanding prices in excess of £500, this reissue for record Store Day comes backed with original B-side 'Keep Moving' and with reproduction original Fontana label and sleeve.

Kings Of Convenience	Quiet Is The New Loud	UMC	Norwegian indie folk duo Kings Of Convenience first rose to prominence around the turn of the 21 st century, coming at the forefront of a loose movement of artists focussing on subtle sounds and delicate musicianship. In fact, this approach even informed their choice of title for the band's debut album 'Quiet Is The New Loud'. A critical smash on its appearance in early 2001, it was closely followed before the year's end by 'Versus', a compelling collection of remakes, remixes and collaborations with a variety of cutting-edge artists including Four Tet, Royksopp and Andy Votel. After this burst of activity the duo explored other musical avenues separately before coming back together for 2004's 'Riot On An Empty Street', which included two collaborations with Canadian singer/ songwriter Feist. For Record Store Day 2016 all three are available once again in a limited vinyl run.

Max Jury	Numb	Marathon Artists	black vinyl, slip sleeve
MAX ROMEO	Give Thanks EP	Nu Roots	Max has teamed up with British producer Daniel Boyle, who had recently finished a long stint working with Lee 'Scratch' Perry on rekindling the Black Ark sound for a number of releases, which culminated in the acclaimed & award winning album "Back On The Controls". Daniel's vision for the Max Romeo project was to take the rekindled Black Ark studio set up, which he and Lee had created at Daniel's Rolling Lion studio in London, and blend a mix of the old and new with it, to create a follow-on from War Ina Babylon. The idea was to make a truly heavyweight roots reggae album; driven by Max Romeo's powerful and conscious lyrics. For this project, Daniel and Max rounded up some of Lee Perry's old Upsetters line-up, including Vin Gordon on trombone, Robbie Lyn on keyboards, and Glen DaCosta on saxophone, blending these veteran Jamaican studio legends with Daniel's ever evolving 'Rolling Lion All Stars' session band, to create a reggae super group, with some added input from Lee 'Scratch' Perry himself on percussion, effects and backing vocals. To complete the concept, Daniel connected with Tony Wright, who was brought on to design and hand-paint the cover art. Tony was responsible for hand painting many famous album covers during the 1970s and beyond, including Bob Marley and the Wailers' Natty Dread, Lee Perry's seminal dub album Super Ape, Junior Murvin's Police and Thieves, Ijahman Levi's Haile I Hymn, and many more...A real blend of the old and then new. The concept was then taken to Tony Wright, who designed the stunning artwork, hand-painted in oils, taking the woman he featured on the War Ina Babylon cover; and bringing her into our modern day world—the real 'Horror Zone.'

MEW	AND THE GLASS HANDED KITES	Music On Vinyl	And the Glass Handed Kites was the fourth album by Danish quartet Mew. Mike Oldfield	Nuclear	UMC	After his performance at the Opening Ceremony of the 2012 Olympic Games in London, Mike Oldfield surprised and delighted fans when he returned after a six-year absence from recording with Man On The Rocks, an album of highly melodic rock songs made with the cream of LA session musicians and up-and-coming vocalist Luke Spiller (from the Struts). It was released to huge acclaim in March 2014. Six months later, the powerfully poignant track 'Nuclear' – a song about Oldfield's grandfather's experiences in the First World War – was selected by director Hideo Kojima for inclusion in the Electronic Entertainment Expo 2014 trailer for computer game Metal Gear Solid V: The Phantom Pain. The track became an enormous word-of-mouth hit across world streaming services. For RSD 2016, it is being released on a strictly limited picture disc 7" single. Konami Entertainment have granted an image from the game on the A-side, while the flip features an exclusive still of Mike and Luke taken during the filming of the 'Sailing' video in the Bahamas in January 2014.

Neneh Cherry	Buffalo Stance	UMC	Neneh Cherry's breakthrough smash of 1989 has an intriguing history. Beginning life as a Stock Aitken and Waterman B-side from Morgan McVey, Cherry and Bomb The Bass's radical overhaul referenced fashion collective Buffalo, pre-Massive Attack ragamuffins The Wild Bunch, Cherry's then boyfriend Esteban Cuadillo and Bomb The Bass's already chart-bothering Tim Simenon himself. Such a melting pot of street styles would create a song that both defined an era in the history of the dancefloor and produced a global hit, peaking at number 3 in the UK charts. This classic song is reissued on a picture disc 12" with the extended version of Buffalo Stance, backed with the David Morales "A Little More Puerto Rican" mix of single Kisses On The Wind.

Ocean Colour Scene	Moseley Shoals	UMC	After their self-titled debut album in 1992 had been mostly disowned by the band, Ocean Colour Scene burst back with a vengeance four years later with 'The Riverboat Song'. Following its use as the theme tune to TFI Friday the track became synonymous with the Britpop scene and mid-to-late '90s indie culture. This, their 2nd album, released for Record Store Day 2016 almost 20 years ago to the day, would be one of THE biggest albums of 1996, selling over a million copies in that year along and yielding hit after hit with 'The Day We Caught The Train', 'You've Got It Bad' and 'The Circle'. Unavailable on vinyl since its release, this very special limited edition double LP has been made available on red vinyl for the first time.

Orb, The	Adventures Beyond The Ultraworld	UMC	Sounding as fresh and innovative as on its original release in 1991, The Orb's debut long player celebrates its 25th anniversary this year... and what better way to do that than with this sumptuous 4LP set? An ambient dance odyssey packed with a wealth of memorable samples from sources as various as the cult 'Flash Gordon' movie, Ennio Morricone's haunting "man with a harmonica" theme from 'Once Upon A Time In The West', Rickie Lee Jones's talk of 'Little Fluffy Clouds' (the subject of much controversy at the time) Grace Jones's 'Slave To The Rhythm', NASA's Apollo missions and Minnie Riperton's soul classic 'Lovin' You'. Presented in the original landmark artwork - where the use of images of Battersea Power Station nodded to the Pink Floyd psychedelia of old and collided with the modern 90s aesthetic of the Designer's Republic- the package is rightly regarded as a milestone of modern dance psychedelia
OST	DR WHO AND THE DALEKS	Silva Screen	Never before released on vinyl, are these two lovingly restored soundtracks to the only big screen Doctor Who films ever made - the 1965 release DR. WHO AND THE DALEKS and 1966 DALEKS: INVASION EARTH 2150 A.D. . The music was composed by Malcom Lockyer (DR. WHO AND THE DALEKS) and Bill McGuffie (DALEKS: INVASION EARTH 2150 A.D.) with sections enhanced by electronic sounds created by Barry Gray, famed for his work with Gerry Anderson. The album also includes contemporary single releases and a gatefold sleeve featuring memorabilia, including the original poster artwork and detailed production notes.

OST	NOSFERATU	Music On Vinyl	Nosferatu, eine Symphonie des Grauens (translated as Nosferatu: A Symphony of Horror) is a 1922 German Expressionist horror film. The film was an unauthorized adaptation of Bram Stoker's Dracula. The film came to be regarded as an influential masterpiece of cinema, as it is Rotten Tomatoes' second best-reviewed horror film of all time. The original score composed by Hans Erdmann has been lost, and what remains is a reconstitution of the score as it was played in 1922. James Bernard, composer of the soundtracks of many Hammer horror films in the late 1950s and 1960s, has written a score for a reissue. This particular 7" version contains audio performed in 1997 by The City of Prague Philharmonic Orchestra, conducted by Nic Raine.

Quincy Jones	The Dude	UMC	Coming between his production duties on Michael Jackson's multi-platinum 'Off The Wall' and the phenomenon of 'Thriller', 'The Dude' was the album which established Quincy Jones as an artist in his own right. Featuring the singles 'Just Once', 'One Hundred Ways' and huge UK hit 'Razzamatazz', 'The Dude' would go on to become a Grammy Award-winning success story. It's probably most famous today for Quincy's take on 'Ai No Corrida', written by ex-Blockhead Chaz Jankel, a further chart smash and a big club hit on early-'80s dance floors. This classic award winning album celebrates its 35th anniversary this year and is available again as a limited edition RSD 2016 release.

Rob Zombie	Well, Everybody's Fucking In A U.F.O. / Super-Doom-Hex-Gloom Part One	UMC	Rob Zombie, the renaissance man of metal and movies, returns with his 6th solo album in April 2016. Ahead of the release, which he describes as "seriously our heaviest most fucked up musical monster to date" two brand new tracks will debut on this special release for Record Store Day 2016. Side A will feature both tracks at 45rpm that will be a reverse groove playback, drop the needle in the center to play - very satanic! Side B will be an etched image of the gloriously demented upcoming new artwork. A definite must have release for his followers!

Shura	Touch	Polydor	Following her support of RSD last year and ahead of her much awaited debut album Nothing's Real, Shura unleashes Touch, her breakout track on a special baby pink coloured 12" for RSD 2016. A gossamer-light take on keening pop, 'Touch' arrived as if from nowhere: the first finished track that Shura had ever written and produced, landing humbly on the internet with a DIY video in which she convinced her friends to kiss on camera. Having surpassed 30 million plays and become one of the most enduring blog successes of recent years this new version of 'Touch' is complimented by stunning remixes from Canvas and Delorean.

With the UK about to celebrate the 40 th anniversary of the musical and cultural revolution that was British punk, this timely 10" reissue features both the title track, the original double A-side 'Typical Girls', LP track 'Love and Romance' and the rarity 'In The Beginning There Was Rhythm'. Soft Cell	Sex Dwarf	UMC	Fresh from scoring the biggest-selling UK single of the year in 1981 with 'Tainted Love', Soft Cell careered into a world of trouble shortly afterwards when the tapes of their tongue-in-cheek "video nasty" for 'Sex Dwarf' were confiscated by the police and banned for obscenity before they ever saw the light of day. This was not how shiny electro popstars were supposed to behave! A long-held fan favourite from the synth duo's debut LP 'Non Stop Erotic Cabaret', 'Sex Dwarf' has never been given a single release in the UK until now and pressed onto lurid pink vinyl (VERY Soft Cell) the 12" brings together the full-length album version plus the 1982 'Non Stop Ecstatic Dancing' and 2007 The Grid remixes.

Various Artists	Genius Of Time - Larry Levan	UMC	This 2-LP beauty comprises highlights from the recently released double CD 'Genius Of Time', a selection of productions and remixes from the inimitable, and much missed, New York DJ Larry Levan. His name is intrinsically linked with the city and all of the abandon and hedonism of disco's golden age - his sets at the legendary pleasure palace The Paradise Garage are still talked about in hushed tones by dance disciples to this day. Included on this limited vinyl version include Levan's reimagining of Grace Jones's classic 'Feel Up' and David Joseph's all-time funky floorfiller 'You Can't Hide Your Love'. The release also includes a download code for all 9 tracks.
Various Artists	Joy	UMC	Music has always been very important to film maker David O. Russell (The Fighter, Silver Linings Playbook, American Hustle) and his latest film Joy is no exception, with featured music ranging from Latin Jazz to hard bop to rock and roll with The Rolling Stones, Cream and Alabama Shakes (with Shakes' vocalist Brittany Howard offering her take on Cream's classic "I Feel Free".) Joining this eclectic line up are 3 tracks from the cast - Edgar Ramirez sings songs from Randy Newman and Antonio Carlos Jobim then teams up with Jennifer Lawrence on a duet of Frank and Nancy Sinatra's "Something Stupid." Amongst these you'll also find the score by Blake Mills, Dylan Thordsen and David Campbell (Beck's dad!) which includes a simple piano take on Springsteen's classic "Racing In The Street." Released on a very limited blue double vinyl set.
